

COMBINED TOUR TO GALAPAGOS 5 days / 4 nights

DAY-BY-DAY DESCRIPTIONS

Day 1 Transfer in – Charles Darwin Research Station

Your flight will land on Baltra Island where our guide will meet you to provide assistance from the airport to Puerto Ayora. The journey takes approximately 1 hour and requires transfers until you reach the Itabaca channel where you are waiting for the transport that will take you to the Puerto Ayora.

On the way you will make a stop at the Twin Craters that are on the sides of the road that leads to Puerto Ayora. Two impressive formations formed by volcanic material inside underground chambers. In this place you will see an important population of Scalecias, endemic plant of Galápagos very characteristic of the high areas.

DESTINATION MANAGEMENT COMPANY

A guide will accompany you to the visit of the Charles Darwin Research Station, home of the famous and centenary turtle "El Solitario George", originally from the Pinta Island that died in June 2012. The station has an interpretation center that recounts the origin of the Islands and several sites where their programs for the conservation of the Galapagos species are shown.

- Accommodation: Hotel Silberstein – Classic room
- Lunch and dinner included

DAY 2 Bartolome Island

Breakfast

The trip to this island begins in Puerto Ayora, early in the morning at 06h00 with a transfer to the Itabaca Channel where you will receive the staff of the boat. The trip to Bartolome lasts approximately 2 hours.

During the trip it is possible that the boat is accompanied by schools of dolphins jumping next to the yacht. Once on the island, you should prepare for a walk and climb a staircase that will take you to the viewpoint of the famous "Pinnacle Rock", one of the most famous postcards of the Galapagos. When climbing the stairs, little by little you will be immersed in a volcanic landscape, dozens of reddish-brown craters unfold on the island giving the appearance of a lunar landscape.

In the afternoon after lunch on board, you will have time to observe, with a little luck, small colonies of Galapagos penguins (Spheniscus mendiculus) that nest in this area and eventually snorkel with them, sea turtles and starfish.

On this island there are two beaches that interconnect their dunes and are the nesting site for sea turtles and perfect for spotting sharks.

You will be back at the hotel at approximately 18h00 to Puerto Ayora.

DAY 3 Seymour Island

Breakfast

Your pick up will be at 08h00 to transfer you to the Itabaca Channel where the yacht's staff waits for the boarding. The navigation lasts approximately 1 hour.

Near the arrival the gray forms of Palo Santo trees are distinguished that usually are without leaves most part of the year. Swallow-tailed gulls and frigatebirds fly over the island, the males of this species with their big red ball in the chest try to conquer the females, while on the trail you will find dozens of blue footed boobies nesting or in their nuptial ritual, an interesting and funny dance with a characteristic whistle of these birds, it is truly unforgettable. It is usual to see the blue footed boobies flying around the coast in search of food and diving at high speed to fish, it is a quality that these birds have due to special protection on their wings that waterproof them while diving.

Seymour, is perhaps the island that best summarizes the best known species of the Galapagos, in addition there you can see sea lions, marine and terrestrial iguanas, pelicans, frigates among others.

Day 4 Plazas Island

Breakfast

South Plaza is a small island off the east coast of Santa Cruz in the Galapagos Islands. It has an area of 0.13 km and a maximum altitude of 23 metres. South Plaza was formed by lava up streaming from the bottom of the ocean. Despite its small size it is home to a large number of species and it is famous for its extraordinary flora.

That is why this island is very popular with visitors. On the steep banks it is possible to see a great number of birds such as nesting Red-billed Tropicbirds and Swallow-tailed Gulls, but most of all, enjoying the beautiful view from atop the steep banks or strolling along the base of the cliff is an extremely pleasurable experience. Very attractive are the beautiful prickly pear cactus trees (Opuntia echios) and of course the large colony of Galapagos Land Iguanas. Depending on the season, the Sesuvium ground vegetation changes its colour from intense green in the rainy season to orange and purple in the dry season.

Lunch on board.

Return to Santa Cruz, dinner and accommodation.

Navigation subject to availability.
